Local Government Incentives for the Creation of Affordable Housing

Development Cost Charge Exemptions for Affordable Housing

The Regional District of Nanaimo and municipalities charge Development Cost Charges (DCCs) on all new development to help cover the capital costs of providing services such as sewer, water, roads and parkland. Under certain situations listed below these charges may be reduced or waived for affordable housing as well as for green or sustainability initiatives.

The Provincial Government through Bill 27 - The Local Government (Green Communities) Statutes Amendment Act - amended the Local Government Act in 2008 to give local and regional governments the ability to waive or reduce DCCs for affordable housing as well as other green communities and sustainability initiatives. This legislation enables each municipality or regional district to determine what constitutes an ‘eligible development’ and to also choose the amount of the reduction to be granted and the conditions under which a reduction would be given.
Small Unit DCC Exemptions

Where a municipal or regional government charges DCCs, Bill 27 automatically allows the exemption of all DCCs for the construction, alteration or extension of self-contained dwelling units no larger in area than 29 m² provided that unit is only used for residential purposes. Part of the rationale for this exemption is that smaller dwelling units make more efficient use of existing infrastructure, are more energy efficient and are generally more affordable. Please contact the regional district or relevant municipality for more information.

City of Parksville Incentives for the Creation of Affordable Housing

City of Parksville Affordable Housing Initiative

The City of Parksville waives the Development Cost Charges for developments which are not for profit rental housing and for affordable housing. In instances where a portion of the number of suites are affordable, the DCCs will be waived for those units or portion of the building providing the owners enter into a housing agreement with the City keeping the units affordable for 15 years.

The City has also exempted affordable housing complexes owned by non-profit agencies from municipal property taxes. The 2013 OCP offers density bonuses in exchange for the provision of affordable housing units in multi-family and strata developments, and considers affordable housing units as a community amenity that may be provided as part of rezoning applications. The City has also introduced a new Small Lot Residential zone with lots of 300 m² to accommodate more affordable single family residential housing. All single family residential zoned properties in the city are allowed to have a maximum 90 m² secondary suite or carriage house on their property subject to compliance with bylaws for setbacks and lot coverage.
