Questions & Answers:

Question 1: Regarding the certification that our firm is authorized as an LSP to transact on your Canadian EA. Do we need to provide an LOA from Microsoft, or what kind of certification would you like included in our response?

Response 1: An attestation from an individual in your firm authorized to do so will be sufficient. These abilities will be confirmed prior to award of the RFSQ.

Question 2: Is there a weighted evaluation criteria that can be shared?

Response 2: No, the submissions will be rated by the evaluation team based on the overall submission, the items do not have individual weighting.

Question 3: Are you interested in seeing a pricing proposal for your current licensing scheme?

Question 4: Would you like to see any information about professional services provided by the LSP on the MSFT technology stack.

Response 4: Not at this time. The RFSQ will not result in an award of professional services, so this information is not required unless being presented in conjunction with your response to one of the items being evaluated.
