Holiday RDN Transit Service Extended

In response to the B.C. government's announcement on December 29, 2021 that the start of school for most students will be delayed until January 10, 2022, the Regional District of Nanaimo (RDN) Transit System is extending the current holiday service schedule (no additional school runs) through January 7, 2022. As well, Vancouver Island University has confirmed they will resume their in-person classes on January 10, 2022.
